

POISON SPRING

Explore One of the Most Remote Canyons in the USA

LOCATION

The staging area for Poison Spring is just off HWY 95. There is a sign that will indicate the location.

TRAIL TYPE

This is for OHV vehicles. Other vehicles are not restricted, but this is a challenging trail.

DISTANCE

The Poison Spring trail is 16 miles each way. Plan 2-2 1/2 hours each way for this trail.

DIFFICULTY

This trail is considered to be very DIFFICULT. Be aware that bad weather will cause the trail to become even more difficult to travel.

TRAIL DESCRIPTION

This trail consists of road, wash, and narrow passages. After storms, there are areas that become impassable because of the flooding.

EQUIPMENT

This trail is recommended for OHV only. Be prepared for any mechanical needs as this is a remote area.

ENVIRONMENT

The weather varies and will affect the road conditions greatly. Be sure to check the Visitors Center before starting out on your tour.

SAFETY

If you run into problems, help may not be able to arrive right away so make sure you are prepared with enough food, water and clothing.

GET A CLOSER LOOK.

This road is a straight shot from Hwy 95 to the Dirty Devil. Along the way there are several canyon trails that lead down different washes. Make sure to take some time to explore the more remote parts of this area.

DO IT AT YOUR OWN PAGE.

The Poison Spring Rd crosses the the Dirty Devil and continues on. In total the trail can be up to 100 miles, depending on how far you want to travel. If you pack enough fuel and equipment you can camp along the way. You will enjoy the solitude that this beautiful, yet remote area provides.

Trail tip: This trail is not recommended during heavy rains as that causes muddy conditions.
