LOCATION

Boulder Mountain high country.

TRAIL TYPE

Loop.

TRAIL DESCRIPTION

A high-elevation loop around Boulder Mountain reaching 10,000 feet, with steep inclines to overlooks like Red Canyon and Deep Lake, and short hikes to fishing spots including Neff Reservoir.

KNOW BEFORE YOU GO

Dogs allowed; no fees required; Leave No Trace. High-elevation route — often snow-covered and impassable in winter/early spring; check current conditions before you go. Pack out everything you pack in. Flash floods can hit canyons fast from distant storms — check the forecast first.

COORDINATES

38.31050, -111.43300 (Trailhead)

Coordinates are a navigation aid — conditions change, so always verify current road and trail status before you go.

SAFETY

Carry physical maps and first aid kits; notify someone of your route.

TRAIL TIP

Stage from a developed area, even if you plan to camp along the trail — it's safer and more convenient than starting cold.
